The Grosvenor Library Bulletin

Buffalo, New York

Volume 21, Number 4

June, 1939

The June number of the Bulletin has, since 1934, been a bibliographical number, given over entirely to New York State imprints collected by Douglas C. McMurtrie. These have been:

1934, Buffalo imprints, 1812 - 1850, supplemental to Severance.

1935, Geneva imprints, 1800 - 1850.

1936, Additional Buffalo imprints, additional Geneva imprints.

1937, Ithaca imprints, 1800 - 1850.

1938, Auburn imprints, 1810 - 1850.

It was decided to print Canandaigua imprints this year. There was much printing in Canandaigua in the 1800's and even after copy was in press new material was found. This has caused a delay in issuing the June, 1939 Bulletin but the list of Canandaigua imprints will be more complete because of this delay.

The September issue will be a review of the work of the Library for the year 1938 - 39.

Being Vol. 21, No. 4 of the Grosvenor Library Bulletin

A Bibliography of Books, Pamphlets and Broad sides Printed at Canandaigua, New York 1799 - 1850

THERE is here presented a preliminary list of Canandaigua imprints from the beginning of printing in that community through the year 1850. This constitutes the fifth list of the imprints of a Western New York town to be published in the Grosvenor Library Bulletin, with the aim of making more fully available the printed source materials for local history.

A list of Canandaigua imprints had already been compiled by the undersigned, when the American Imprints Inventory of the WPA Historical Records Survey Program began to function. With the approval of Dr. Luther H. Evans, the national Director of that program, an approval appreciated by both the compiler and the authorities of the Grosvenor Library, the titles recorded by that inventory were fused with those already gathered. These editorial additions were made by Dr. Lester Condit of the Illinois Historical Records Survey Project, now supervised by Dr. Royal S. Van de Woestyne. This cooperation has resulted in a record of early Canandaigua printing more comprehensive than could otherwise have been prepared.

Canandaigua became an important outpost in the development of Western New York in the closing years of the eighteenth century. After the Revolutionary War, Massachusetts laid claim to most of the lands north of the 42nd parallel in what is New York State. These claims were settled by an arrangement made on December 16, 1786, by which Massachusetts surrendered all claims on the disputed area east of the so-called Preemption Line, which ran at approximately the 77th meridian. West of that line Massachusetts retained the title to the land, but yielded to New York the sovereignty over it.

On January 27, 1789, New York organized all the territory west of the Preemption Line into Ontario County. At the same time Canandaigua was formed as the county seat. The first court house was built there in 1794.

At its formation, Canandaigua contained nine or ten families. The first federal census in 1790 found only 205 families and 1801 people (other than Indians) in the whole vast county.

The first road to the new county was the "Old State Road" laid out in 1790 from Utica. At first, this was a mere track through the wilderness, with only the most primitive kind of bridges for crossing the wider streams. Not until 1797 was it improved and widened so that it could be used for stages.

The first press came to Canandaigua in 1799, at a date as yet undetermined except that it was prior to September 24th. The press was that of Lucius Cary, who removed his Ontario Gazette and Genesee Advertiser from Geneva to the county seat. Canandaigua was not incorporated as a village, distinct from the township, until April 18, 1815. At that time Canandaigua had two newspapers, the Ontario Repository, guided by James D. Bemis, and the Ontario Messenger, by John Abbott Stevens.

The bibliographical list here presented contains 203 titles, of which 195 are known from copies distributed among 83 libraries and 3 private collections and 8 cannot at present be located. Of the total, 188 can be safely identified as Canandaigua imprints. The Appendix contains 15 other titles of doubtful origin, of which 3 are known only from advertisements and 2 are only presumed to have been printed.

Of the 188 titles definitely ascribed to Canandaigua, 156 (including 4 of which copies are not located) are recorded as having the imprints of Canandaigua printers; 13 were published in Canandaigua and in all probability were also printed there; 19 (including 4 not located) have no imprints, but because of their strictly local interest can quite safely be assumed to have been printed in Canandaigua.

For the most part, Canandaigua titles, so far as shown by the present list, fit the bookseller's description "excessively rare." Of the total of 195 of which copies have been located, 77 have been found thus far in single copies only or, if more than one copy, with both in a single location; 49 are reported from two locations each, 24 from three locations, and 17 from four. This leaves only 28 titles of which 5 or more copies have been located.

The Ontario County Historical Society at Canandaigua, as is quite appropriate, has the largest collection of Canandaigua titles, a total of 82. Of these, 29 have been reported as yet from no other library, and 20 are known only in 2 copies each, the Society sharing these pairs with 14 other libraries. The next largest collection of Canandaigua imprints is in the Henry E. Huntington Library, which has 38 of the titles, including 7 that have not been found elsewhere. The American Antiquarian Society has 34 Canandaigua titles, of which 6 are known from copies in that library only. In the New York Public Library are 27 of the titles, 2 (one a broadside) being unique there. The New York State Library has 25, of which 5 are unique. From the Library of Congress, 20 titles are reported, 3 of which have not been found elsewhere. The Samuel Colgate Baptist Historical Collection, at Hamilton, N. Y., also has 20, with 4 of them unique.

The Rochester Historical Society has 19 Canandaigua titles, 2 of them unique. The Colgate-Rochester Divinity School at Rochester has 15; the Auburn Theological Seminary and the Boston Public Library are credited with 13 each; 4 in the Auburn institution and 1 in the Boston library have not yet been found elsewhere; the Grosvenor Library, at Buffalo, and the Harvard College Library have 10 each of the titles listed, one of the titles at Harvard being known only from the copy in that library. Of the 86 libraries and collections represented here, 45 have only one Canandaigua title.

These distribution figures are, of course, only for the date of the present list. It is expected that the examination of the list by librarians will result in the report of many additional locations for the titles listed and also, it is hoped, in the addition of many Canandaigua titles not yet recorded.

The subject matter of the Canandaigua titles is of interest as showing the kind of thing that the local printers produced for local use. The largest group consists of sermons and other religious tracts, including two catechisms, a total of 30 titles. With 23 issues of the minutes of local Baptist associations, there are altogether 53 titles which are principally concerned with the religious life of the community. The next largest group contains 27 annual almanacs. Then comes a group of 25 addresses, speeches, and orations on various occasions. Indicative of the early importance of Canandaigua as an educational center are the titles of 21 school books, some of them in several successive editions, and the 20 catalogues of the local educational institutions—the Canandaigua Academy and the Ontario Female Institute. There are 12 political or legal tracts and broadsides and 10 titles concerned with the activities of local societies. Cultural interests are slimly represented by three books of verse, including two editions of Pope's Essay on Man. But for material of this kind, of course, the community drew upon the established publishing centers in other parts of the country. The Canandaigua printers produced, for the most part, material of immediate local interest.

The Compiler and the American Imprints Inventory desire to record their appreciation of the helpful cooperation of the authorities of the numerous institutions in which imprints have been located. We are specially grateful for the essential information provided by Mrs. Bernhardena M. Stratton, curator of the Ontario County Historical Society at Canandaigua; Mr. R. W. G. Vail, librarian of the American Antiquarian Society at Worcester, Mass., who has always taken a special interest in early issues of the Western New York press; Mr. Joseph Gavit, the distinguished bibliographer who is now acting director of the New York State Library; and Dr. Alexander J. Wall, director of the New York Historical Society. The Canandaigua titles in the valuable imprint catalogue of the New York Public Library have been made available to us through the generous cooperation of Mr. Gerald McDonald.

Finally, Dr. Augustus H. Shearer, director of the Grosvenor Library, who has always taken the liveliest interest in these imprints lists, has been helpful to us in many ways, as have also Mr. Alexander Galt, librarian of the Buffalo Public Library, and Mr. Robert W. Bingham, director of the Buffalo Historical Society. I am indebted to my associate, Mr. Albert H. Allen, for able assistance at many points in the preparation of this list. For her patient and competent effort in seeing this list through the press, I am specially grateful to Miss Mildred E. Ross, editor of the Grosvenor Library Bulletin.

All titles in this list have been cleared through the Union Catalog of the Library of Congress, through the courtesy of its director, Mr. George A. Schwegmann, Jr. This operation has added many locations of titles which we would not otherwise have been in position to record.

No first list of the imprints of any community can claim to be even approximately complete. Experience has shown, however, that the publication of a first list brings to light many titles which would not otherwise be known. It is inevitable that a checking of this list by interested librarians and collectors will result in the record of many new titles and locations. It is hoped that these may be reported to the compiler at the address below. Such memoranda will be most cordially appreciated.

The Grosvenor Library is the reference library of the City of Buffalo. It was established by the munificence of Seth Grosvenor, one of the pioneer business men of Buffalo, who came before the city was burned in 1813. He died in 1857 and left $40,000 to found a reference library "the books not to be lent out or rented and only used for reading in the building," the purpose being to supply standard literature, the more expensive works needed by students, and books for research. The act making provisions for the carrying out of the bequest was passed in 1859, but the Library was not opened for the public until 1870. The present building was erected in 1895 and the addition in 1922.

Although possessing this endowment the Grosvenor Library is almost wholly supported by the City of Buffalo and its resources are for the free use of the citizens, there being no membership or other special privileges connected with the institution. A welcome is extended to temporary residents and strangers.

The Library contains over 328,650 volumes, to which additions are continually being made. Library hours are: Week days 9 A. M. to 10 P. M., Sundays 2 to 6 P. M.

The Library welcomes telephone requests for information.

Telephone, Cleveland 7670

The Grosvenor Library will be pleased to receive gifts of books or money, to be used for general or specific purposes designated by the donor.

The Trustees of the Library will be glad to confer with any persons interested in its development and extension as to the requirements and needs of the institution, and the application of moneys for development in special departments, or for the establishment of Memorial or Endowment Funds.
